Bio & Policy Statement from
A Nominee for Correspondent Member Governor
Board of Governors 2019-2020

Richard MACAULEY
Affiliation: Bloomberg LP

POLICY STATEMENT

If elected to the board as correspondent governor I would contribute in a number of ways:

The board has long talked of producing a history of the club, which dates back to the early 1940s. I would embark on an audio project to record interviews with our longest-standing members. This should eventually become a podcast to celebrate the work of great reporters and the role of the FCC in Hong Kong and across Asia.

Regarding our events, I would champion more speakers from Hong Kong and Asia's independent and non-English language media. There is great work being done by young start-ups and there's a lot to learn from them too.

In F&B, I would continue to support greater efficiencies and green initiatives for our club.

I am – and it ought to go without saying – committed to the fact that everyone should feel welcome and comfortable at the club. I will continue to work so that our bars and restaurants are enjoyed by all of our members, and their guests, at all times.

BIOGRAPHY

Richard Macauley has lived and worked in Hong Kong and mainland China for 12 years. In that time, Richard has worked as a freelance reporter, as staff with Quartz, and currently works with Bloomberg.

Richard has served one year on the FCC board, as a correspondent governor 2018-19. During this time Richard oversaw the introduction of a new GM to the club and the arrival of more green policies for our operations.

Richard hopes to make his recent board experience useful to those on the next board, in a year that promises to offer plenty of opportunities to continue to better the FCC.
