	Stony Brook Lyle Methode Cap Classic 2013 This is a sparkling wine made in the traditional method, consisting only Chardonnay grapes. The wine was matured in the bottle on the lees for 50 months before disgorgement. Some 15% of the base wine was matured in French oak barriques, with reserve wine dating back to 2005. Only the cuvée fraction of pressed juice was used to ensure the purest and most elegant bottled product.	$169
	Roodekrantz Old Vine Chenin Blanc 2017 Planted in 1974, dry land bush vine on deep decomposed Malmesbury shale. Wild yeast ferment in older barrels with extended lees contact. The wine exhibits apricot, pear and acacia blossom aromas on the nose. The palate is ample rounded and fruit driven and reveals faint well-integrated vanilla notes. An elegant finish for a good wine.	$139

	Windmeul Pinotage Reserve 2014 Complex nose made up of red fruit, cherries and prunes. Full flavoured palate complete with smooth textures and lingering aftertaste. Grapes were harvested at optimum ripeness, giving the wine strong prune and berry characteristics.	$159
	Keermont Cabernet Sauvignon 2014 This wine spent 22 months maturing in French oak barrels before being bottled by hand without filtration. The wine was bottle matured in the cellar for a further 18 months before release. The wine is bright crimson red colour. The nose is a complex mix of savoury notes: crushed herbs, violets, sandalwood, leather and some lovely bright red fruit. Powerful tight-knit tannin and a very linear acidity afford the wine a long succulent finish.	$199
