Policy Statement

With over 20 years of experience as a columnist and currently serving as the host of the prominent current affairs program "Finance and Knowledge Avenue" on New City Finance and Economics Channel, I am excited to declare my candidacy. I also have a keen interest in heritage conservation and aim to contribute to the preservation and management of historical sites through my social connections and expertise.

1. Maintain Hong Kong's status as an international financial hub by ensuring the integrity of the information trading platform, upholding press freedom, and supporting the functioning of news organizations.
2. Share our organization's successful experiences in heritage conservation to enhance the quality of heritage management and maintenance. I will also actively communicate with relevant officials to address any concerns.
3. Foster opportunities for communication and collaboration between our organization and local Chinese media. This can be achieved through organizing gatherings for local media professionals who are not members of our organization.
4. Oversee the catering services provided by our organization, offering a variety of culinary options to members and guests. Together, we can contribute to making Hong Kong the culinary capital it aspires to be.
